SUMMARY

1958. Belgium is in full World Expo fever. Five passengers board the Brussels-Rome flight on a private, chartered jet. Shortly after takeoff, one of them is found lifeless in his seat. The man appears to have been poisoned. But by whom?

In this six-part miniseries, each episode is centered around the back story of one passenger/suspect. In the form of flashbacks we are introduced to the world of the businessman, the concert violinist, the prince and the accountant. We learn about their relationship with the mysterious Dr. Edward and, more importantly, what their possible motive for murder is.

Are some of them withholding important details? Will the killer be unmasked before landing? Or will a shocking final destination await everyone?

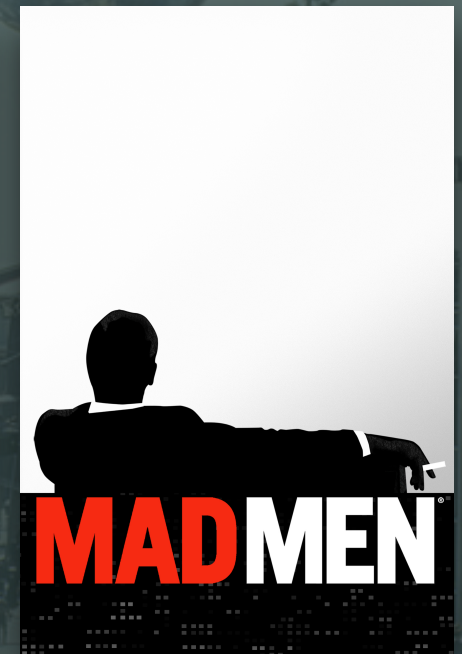

With FLIGHT 220 the viewer will be served a cocktail of suspense, humor and drama with a splash of mid century style.

Take your seat, fasten your seat belt, and enjoy the flight. Just avoid the welcome drink. You never know ...

EPISODES

EPISODE 001 - NOW BOARDING

Five passengers board a chartered jet bound for Rome. But shortly after take-off, one of them is found lifeless in his seat. Dr. Edward was poisoned. By whom? Very quickly everyone starts accusing each other and secrets start to emerge. Rebecca, the head flight attendant, takes control and starts questioning each of the four passengers.

EPISODE 002 - THE BUSINESSMAN

A year earlier. Olivier De Winter is about to sign an exclusive contract with Expo 58, which will put his food company on the international map. When during a television interview, Dr. Edward warns the population of an ongoing food poisoning epidemic linked to De Winter's company, the latter sees his dreams of wealth and fame evaporate like water.

EPISODE 003 - THE VIOLINIST

Several months earlier. During a reception, following a successful concert in the American Theater, the talented concert violinist Eva Kaapland is introduced to the famous Dr. Edward. When her sister suddenly becomes seriously ill with no doctors being able to diagnose what she has, Eva turns to Edward for help, resulting in catastrophic consequences.

EPISODE 004 - THE PRINCE

For a few months now, the job of Cornelius, Prince of Aalst, has been to protect a royal secret. Princess Leopoldine has been officially abroad for weeks, while in fact she's been hiding in a convent. When Dr. Edward discovers the shocking reason why the princess is locked up, he threatens to publicly reveal the truth and starts to blackmail Cornelius.

EPISODE 005 - THE ACCOUNTANT

Young accountant Marco Bertrani tries to convince everyone on the plane that he has never heard of Dr. Edward. But after the other passengers put pressure on him, he tells them the real reason why he is flying to Rome: he has been working with State Security for months and is bringing compromising documents to Italy that could unmask the Devil, the head of a crime organization.

EPISODE 006 - BENVENUTI A ROMA

When flight 220 finally lands in Rome, surprises are far from being over for the passengers and its crew.
